'It was a bit like parking your car in the middle of a busy highway': the evolving role of a British emergency department in an intractable humanitarian crisis. Intractable humanitarian crises caused by war, natural disaster, and extreme poverty have become the norm. Increasingly, the global burden of these crises is falling on fragile health systems in fragile states. Emergency medicine is key to the response. This paper outlines the evolving role of British emergency departments in providing such services. A brief overview of the context for British involvement in such work is provided. Recent British case studies (2007-2016) are presented, and the evolution of the role is reflected on. Where such services are provided, there are challenges in ensuring that the necessary infrastructure for emergency care is established and maintained, ensuring that health services do not disintegrate, that performance indicators are valid and reliable, that patients' rights are protected, and that ethics, legal, and social issues are considered. The paper concludes that emergency medicine has emerged as one of the medical specialties most suited to the delivery of such services. As emergencies become more commonplace in a world with greater fragility, emergency medicine has the potential to play a vital role in solving the future health challenges of humanity./* ** $Id: ltable.h,v 2.7.1.1 2007/12/27 13:02:25 roberto Exp $ ** Lua tables (hash) ** See Copyright Notice in lua.h */ #ifndef ltable_h #define ltable_h #include "lobject.h" #include "lstate.h" #include "lgc.h" #include "ltm.h" #define gnode(t,i) (&(t)->node[i]) #define gkey(n) (&(n)->i_key.nk) #define gval(n) (&(n)->i_val) #define gnext(n) ((n)->i_key.nk.next) #define settable(L,t,n) (gkey(n)->nuse++; \ gtable(L,t,n) = cast(ltable *, (n))) /* ** insert a key into a table; returns 1 if inserted, 0 if there was an

Q: How to update a string column in mysql table using Java? I have successfully connected to MySQL through Java program. I am inserting values of a column to a string variable. The values are inserted in the String fk_name_value. After the table is updated with those values, I would like to update the same column with the values that have been updated. But this did not succeed. I need to edit that column by changing the previous fk_name_value to the new fk_name_value. Can someone help? My code is below: preparedStatement = conn.prepareStatement("select fk_name from customer where customer_no=?"); preparedStatement.setString(1, customer_no); rs = preparedStatement.executeQuery(); fk_name = new String(jArray.toString()); // this is the fk_name column preparedStatement = conn.prepareStatement("update customer set fk_name_value=?, updated_time_stamp=NOW() where customer_no=?"); preparedStatement.setString(1, fk_name_value); preparedStatement.setString(2, customer_no); preparedStatement.executeUpdate(); conn.commit(); A: You are not updating or changing the database. You are changing the value that was retrieved. You must use an update or insert statement. For update: preparedStatement = conn.prepareStatement("update customer set fk_name_value=?, updated_time_stamp=NOW() where customer_no=?"); preparedStatement.setString(1, fk_name_value); preparedStatement.setString(2, customer_no); preparedStatement.executeUpdate(); For insert: preparedStatement = conn.prepareStatement("insert into customer (customer_no, fk_name_value) values (?,?)"); preparedStatement.setString(1, customer_no); preparedStatement.setString(2, fk_name_value); preparedStatement.executeUpdate(); you seem to have gone to all the trouble of bringing us here, then it shouldn't be a problem if we mention that we're family members of a man in the U.S
