Hospital construction in Abak District (Al-Ain), United Arab Emirates: new paradigm in healthcare facilities. The Abak District is one of the largest district of the Al Ain region in the United Arab Emirates (UAE). The district is formed by 7 emirates: Al Ain, Al Qusais, Abu Hail, Al-Buraimi, Al-Harhi, Al-Shuwaikh, and Tawam. Abak is the regional capital of the Al-Harhi emirate. With a population of 620,000 inhabitants, Abak has the third highest population density in the UAE. It is an endemic area of high temperatures, which lead to the development of highly dense rural and urban areas. The national health system is facing the increasing cost of treatment with development of this district. As a result, out-of-pocket (OOP) costs in Abak more than other regions in the UAE, amounting to 5-8% of the total health expenditure. Hospital construction in Abak District involves various approaches to provide a medical structure as well as adequate hospital facilities. There are three purposes in developing new hospitals in Abak, including the development of health services as well as the local people's needs, encouraging competition in the development of hospitals, and promoting the local medical services. In this study, the construction of new medical centers is highlighted. This reflects the issue of OOP costs and how to reduce these costs in Abak as well as other cities in the UAE, and on a world scale. What's new:

The original design of BR Class 31 was introduced in 1959 with the 2-6-2 hydraulic multiple working (2x4) wheel arrangement. The class was first to be bodied by English Electric in 1959. It has been fitted with two axle routes; the Western Region Class 2B (2-4-4-4T); and the Eastern Region Class 15 (2-4-4-6T). West Coast Railways; North West Trains 44700-44702; LMS Engines 441 (44001-5) and DMU 4009. Similarly the various Groupings of National Rail Services used to the fleet of the Northern NSW region have operated carriage runs with the class with DMUs numbering DMUX 551-554, In March 1984 as part of the withdrawal of 3443 class the class was trimmed of the two axle route, MCI 2316 being withdrawn the same day and DMU 2338 was withdrawn 5.7 years later. In this removed class was a large amount of out of use stock, 2x4 carriages.
