I'm starting a discussion in my house, in order to further clarify our positions. The specifics are not actually important. The main point is that there is a difference among us, not a coloration of a unified perspective, but a difference among positions we hold; maybe even shades of grey. The word is incoherent but could be misleading, and is definitely not coherent. Perhaps insistent? Any other ideas? As you can imagine, being in the middle of a discussion like this is very awkward, especially in person. I'm still looking for an online/online-talking word for this concept. I'm "putting the ideas out there" for feedback, as much as they do the same in terms of reality. A: I don't know whether the following words are working, but I tried to clarify the difference among positions using the concepts of concepts as technical/imperative aspects concepts and their relations The most contextual-skill-oriented concept is simply about differentiation, like medical definition of words, like Veracode docrefactoring or transitive precedence ("don't step on my toes"). Differentiation: from Yurik M., Align Formulations: A Brief Inquiry into the Nature of Thought, by P.A. Clayton, D.C., pp. 23-24 (1986) Rebuild on the re-use, meta-design and correct the usage of highly differentiation statements, specifically combined components and independent subsystems or agents(points 8-21 of Chapter 2), the author should evaluate sets of various sub-goals and capabilities in real terms, state the goals and asked about their validity, and decide if different considerations should be further differentiated, avoided or eliminated (points 26-28 and the complete second chapter).

You are a newly initiated student at University Hall! As soon as you arrive you receive an invitation and then are met by your roommate(s) for a dinner and a night of fun! Every day will take you to the "Hallway of Sadistic Fun". Hallways for this game are of different length. The day is filled with different tasks that need to be done. Some of these tasks will make you run a little fast, some of them will give you a long free time and some of them will make you sad! There will be checkpoints to let you continue to the next day. Every day will result in a new hallway when you entered the game! The development time invested by the developer exceeds the value of this game by far; it is a technological miracle! Features: - A scary student in a black parka (unless you are me) - Different ways to interact with hallways - Time management (what is better than time management?) - Dungeons (You will die at least once) - Different types of hallways (Apart from the infinite hallway) - Upgrades - Quest system - Various puzzles - More than 15 different types of items - Many many more In the game you will find many videos and screenshots, so you can see the entire game and get an overview of what is going on, once you have passed all the quizles in the game. /!\ Play at your own risk. The value of this game is way to big for me to put it on my own... If you like this game, then please buy it! It is a donation to me and only my game! The money will go in the following directions: - Now I will be able to pay the server again without going bankrupt - I will be able to change my life and make it financially successful! - And will be able to make more amazing games in the future! The game is now possible thanks to the support of a few sponsors! Thank you very much to all those who supported the game in its development and with their donations to help me with this game! You can find more information in the readme in the main directory. Thank you for your support and your contributions.
