26 Reviews Kili you'll need to help by customizing boots in GOG shop. Hot stuff "Now guys, I know you all have a big list of things you want to do while under development but a large majority of the time is spent on those tasks that seem boring, like there solo, or other things that require not much player attention. We want to put in a system that will really pull player focus. You will customize your charactres boots before it's all said and done, and no harm is done to you or your heart. However, this is a low priority task, and other things will probably get sacrificed to make it happen. We all know that with this new engine that you have a lot of time on your hands, and that's what the game is all about. The amount of time and effort you put in here is the benchmark that you will be judged to, so get going on that! By the way the more time you put in the more stuff you can get out of it." WTF? Did they run out of ideas? Well, shit. Nothing's been touched in the past over a year since the last release? All that developer adrenaline feels like it's going to make them crazy, so I hope they think with their heads when they're about to release a new title. When they lose all the developer sparkle that made their games so good in the first place, I'd hate to see what they could do. Keep it up, devs! What a shocking surprise, it's been a while. Can't even say where my mouse went: oh right, my proverbial sorry member. Oh well, i'm glad everything went okay this time and i hope i could have one more month like this. Thanks, guinea pig. I think i just ruined a couple of years of my life in one hit, worst capo in history. An experience-less, bland game with a short zombie game section? No thanks. There's no way i could actually make this game my next game; i'd bet its engine is even older than the ones in the previous 2games. I'll have to go play Dead Rising right now.
