The application offers everything from simple editing and applying layers and colors to complex retouching and frame-making. From small adjustments to complete retouching, Pixelmator gives you the power to create your own version of the world. Whether you are a seasoned artist, a student or someone who just wants to play around, Pixelmator offers a lot of fantastic tools to help you get your own unique artwork out of your photo. This time we are looking at the text tool. As mentioned, this is one of the more powerful tools in the application. There are two main modes, the Text Tool and the Text Generator. The Text Tool allows you to edit the text of an image. You can create or edit the text, by adding spaces, links, text frames, sticky text, different colors, transparency, alpha channels, etc. The Text Generator, however, allows you to create a whole new image using a basic set of elements. Here you can select the kind of text, the font, the size and the position. More importantly, you can choose the color, the color of the background, the transparency, the position of the text and a number of other settings. You can even download royalty free fonts to use within Pixelmator. Just go to the 'Styles' window and click on 'Open'. You'll then be able to choose a free font from one of the links. There are two options available to you for text. The first is the Text Tool. This is a useful tool for simply editing the text, adding spaces and links, making links stick to each other, and adding in so much more. The second is the Text Generator. This one allows you to create a whole new image. You can add links, titles, colors and text boxes, apply a background color, and even download royalty free fonts to use within the Pixelmator. There are two tools, the Text Tool and the Text Generator. We are going to go through the Text Tool in more detail and the Text
